EXPECTED RESULTS

- The expected results are;

-new ways of presenting realistic injuries, with new materials and showing new injuries that they have not shown before

-new ways of applying the head bandage that would be easier to learn and would take less time to apply

-to find the best AED performance trainer, to determine which ratio in the number of massage and inhalation is the best, or what range gives the best effect and for this research

-to facilitate the operation of the new immobilization method and shorten the first aid procedure for firefighting.

-improved lessons at schools by using the online manual; providing first aid in an easier way and making it easier for the students to learn and apply what they have learnt

-better understanding the meaning of using first aid with the help of video clips for students

-innovation in teaching methods for teachers
